

APDA IN CALIFORNIA

Thanks to support from generous people like you, APDA is able to fund essential Parkinson's support and services in California, and beyond.

Here's some of what you help make possible:

PROGRAMS & SERVICES:

APDA Information & Referral Center at Stanford University

- 9 APDA support groups, 950+ in attendance
- 132 total support groups, 13,000+ in attendance
- 129 exercise groups/classes, 12,000+ attendance
- Total number of contacts with patients annually: 25,950

APDA Information & Referral Center at the Movement Disorder and Neuromodulation Center at UCSF

- Connecting Through Art program

APDA Information & Referral Center at Pacific Neuroscience Institute, Providence Saint John's Health Center, Santa Monica (new)

- Specialized APDA PRESS™ support group programs
- Connecting Through Art program
- What's New in PD Treatment program

Tango for PD classes, part of the Neuroscience Supportive Care Program at Stanford Neuroscience Health Center

Dancing Through Parkinson's classes at Invertigo Dance Theatre, Los Angeles

West Coast Parkinson's Educational Forum: A Weekend of Discovery: October 2017 in Anaheim, and October 2018 in Irvine

APDA Southern California Optimism Walk, Palos Verdes Peninsula: April 2017, April 2018, March 2019, and May 2020 (virtual)

RESEARCH:

APDA is funding the following cutting-edge researcher in CA:

- Livia Hecke Morais, PhD, California Institute of Technology, Pasadena, CA