DCC XIV
TEAM CAPTAIN
PLAYBOOK
Dear team captains

The Miami Dolphins organization thanks you for supporting the #1 fundraising event in the NFL. The DCC began 13 years ago with one goal in mind: to unite the community against one of the most insidious diseases of our generation. Today, the DCC is a year-round movement focused on the challenge the cancer community faces every day, reminding us that you don’t have to have cancer to fight cancer.

As Team Captain, you are the leaders of the DCC. Embrace this role by impactfully bringing people together to benefit the health and wellness of our community.

Thank you for accepting this role and taking on the challenge of continuing the winning tradition of the DCC. #oneteamonefight

Captain Advice

“Be authentic. Don’t try to just sell the perks (swag, tax-deductible donations). While those are amazing and important, the passion and drive is what truly resonates with people and co-workers to take time out of their personal time to participate. When people see that you are excited and passionate, I believe that energy is contagious and people will follow.”

- Dillon DiBartolomeo, Team Hurricanes WOW MKTG

“Get a core team; one-on-one is best to grow; connect with perspectives - has cancer touched them? Keep in touch! Encourage!”

- Jeffrey Wade, Team Hurricanes - Team Sarcoma
“If you can get 1-5 new people to join - the day of the event is all it takes to get someone hooked!”

- Julie Engroff, Team Genentech

“Don’t doubt, just do it - you think people won’t join the team, but once you talk about it, they will join (just like donating - the more you talk about it, the better the outcome)”.

- Anthony Machado, Team Hurricanes On-Site Patient Access

“Mack Cycle loves the way the DCC welcomes both first-timers and experienced riders. If any team needs bikes, equipment, expertise or friendly cycling tips, swing by our store in South Miami and we’ll make sure your team is prepared and ready to have an amazing experience.”

- Rachel Losada, Team Hurricanes - Mack Cycle

“Cycling has helped us get the community involved in powerful ways. We ride for a purpose and we love riding with the Miami Dolphins.”

- Maurice Hanks, Team Break the Cycle

- ★ Make your goals realistic, but significant.
- ★ Your team goals should reflect the TEAM’S goal.
- ★ Lead by example and share your personal fundraising goal with the team.
- ★ Make a team size goal too. The larger the team, the larger the fundraising.
- ★ Make a core team.
  - ○ Assign a co-captain to the team and a few people that know how to rally/fundraise well.

On pages 6-10 of this guide you will find the Team Captain Goal Sheet and a Suggested Timeline. Utilize these tools to assist you in your planning.

Repping your team with Pride

There is no better way to show off your team pride than customizing jerseys/shirts for your team. If you are interested in customizing an active shirt or jersey for your team, please contact John Asdourian via email at John.a@primalwear.com

See below for some examples of teams that used Primal to customize their jerseys.
Grow the Team

The DCC is all about teams.

Just this past year, DCC XIII had 332 teams! With that being said, we know our teams all want to know how to further grow their team.

Tips on Recruiting

★ Recruit those you know.
  ○ Friends
  ○ Family
  ○ Coworkers
  ○ Neighbors
★ Free registration will appeal to new incoming team members! Check to see if your organization will cover the registration fees for your team. If so, contact one of our coordinators for a promo code specific to your team. At the end of DCC they will then send you an invoice for the total amount of registrations.
  ○ Email Celine Diaz, cdiaz@dolphins.com to request a code.
★ Post on socials about why you are participating and invite others to join you.
★ Have each team member recruit at least one additional member.
★ Utilize your Team Kick-off day, fundraisers and post-event celebrations to invite others to join your team.
  ○ Examples:
    ■ Invite the office to coffee and donuts in a conference room to have sweet treats while learning about the DCC and registering.
    ■ Have a company family day? Have employees and their families register for your DCC team.
FUNdaising

Put the FUN back in Fundraising.

Make your fundraising goals attainable.

When it comes to your fundraising goals don’t settle for what you KNOW will be achieved. That is just the floor of what you and your team are capable of. This applies to your team's overall fundraising goal and your personal goal.

A tip we recommend is this:

★ Personal fundraising floor is your fundraising minimum. Your goal is above that. The minimum is what we know you can achieve. Where do you know you can go? What new level are you reaching for? Maybe that’s Mad Dog ($1K+) status or Heavy Hitter ($3K+). Think it over and set your goal.

★ Team fundraising floor is your team's fundraising minimums all added together. What is the total fundraising amount your team WILL be achieving. Once you know that, think of doubling it. As a team it isn’t a question of whether you will achieve it but how much you will achieve together.

If you haven’t yet, go back to the goal’s sheet of your team captain guide and fill out that goals sheet. Print it out and put it somewhere you can look at. Visually seeing your team’s goals and seeing their progress is a great way to see where you are and where you are going.

Fundraising Tips

We understand that fundraising looks intimidating but we want to help you see how FUN and simple it actually is.

★ Individual Fundraising
  ○ Be your own champion and donate to yourself!
  ○ Make it personal!
    ■ Personalize your fundraising page with pictures and your story, your WHY.
  ○ Make the ask.
    ■ Family
Friends
Co-Workers
○ Add your fundraising link to your email signature.

○ Connect your Facebook through donor drive for a Facebook fundraiser.
○ Put your fundraising link on your Instagram bio.

★ Team Fundraising
○ Personalize your team page.
  ■ Share your company/team’s reason as to why you collectively participate.
  ■ Add team photos.
○ Host a team fundraising event.
  ■ Call-a-thon
  ■ Company match day. Where any donations made to the team can be matched by your corporation for a day.
  ■ Corporate bake sale
  ■ Department competition week.
    ● Whichever department raises the most in a week is given something special (VIP parking, a day off, breakfast, lunch, get creative with what works for you.)
    ● This also encourages your participants to individually fundraise on their pages.
○ QR code for donations in the company newsletter. Download the app to get QR code.
○ Talk about your company fundraising on LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook etc. Post your team fundraising page on there. Challenge your social media family to challenge cancer with you by donating.

★ Onsite Fundraising
○ This is probably the most effective day to fundraise! On event day as you enjoy all that you have accomplished post on your social media account. Share the event. Share what you are doing to challenge cancer. Invite people to challenge cancer and support you.

- Resharing what the DCC posts is great, but on event day your followers want to see how you are personally joining the challenge.

★ Online Fundraising

- We have created some DCC Social Media Resources for you. These can be found to download on the resources tab of our website, ridedcc.com

After the party!

Just because our DCC event finished doesn’t mean the party stops! Here are all of the tips and tricks you need to know in order to enjoy and make the most of the “after party”.

Fundraising Finish Line

As we wrap up our fundraising, kee encouraging your team to get their final push of donations. Maybe they haven’t hit their fundraising minimums or maybe they have far exceeded them. Either way, we can do far more than we think we are capable of. Push and encourage your team to try and hit new heights in their fundraising before we officially close the book on DCC XIV.

Send thank you’s to your donors

Showing gratitude to your donors goes a long way. Without our donors we can’t create as big of an impact as we do. Think of sending them an email or card sharing your gratitude and explaining what you were able to achieve together.

Below we wrote an example of a thank you email template.
Dear (Donor Name),

Thank you so much for your generous donation and helping me support Dolphins Challenge Cancer and Sylvester Comprehensive Cancer Center. Thanks to your support, we are improving the lives of those challenged by cancer.

In our renewed mission to challenge cancer year-round, funding from the DCC will be allocated to support Sylvester's more than 3000 active clinical trials; survivorship programs; seed money to accelerate cutting-edge research; and innovative cancer treatments such as immunotherapy.

Together we are making a difference!

Team Thank You

Without our team's hard work and dedication, we couldn't possibly be as successful. As a team captain make sure you are stewarding your gratitude to your team members. Thank them for joining, participating, fundraising and growing the team. A thank you can be big or small, see below for different ways to thank your team.

★ Publicly thank them for their hard work and dedication. You can do this by posting on social media/company intranet or shouting them out in a town hall/corporate wide meeting/email.
★ Write a thank you card and send it to a team member. Everyone loves happy mail.
★ Treat your team. At the next team gathering you have, share your gratitude by treating them to a special treat; for example doughnuts and coffee.
Host a Team Celebration

It is important to take a minute and not only acknowledge/reflect on your accomplishment but your team’s. This can be a corporate lunch or breakfast saying thank you. Maybe having a team outing, a BBQ or activity that the team can gather at.

To make the celebration even more intentional, think of doing Team Specific Superlatives.

This is one way to make your team feel special and recognize team members for their hard work and dedication.

Share the news!

Post about the success of your team with the DCC on Corporate newsletters, Linked In etc. By doing this you are able to showcase how your organization/team gets involved in the community.

For example, on the next page you will find a clip of a recap article that our Polyglass team did this past DCC XIII.
Below you will find a clip example of a LinkedIn post from our Microsoft team.

Dolphins Challenge Cancer: Serendipity, the unlikeliest of friendships, and the birth of an enduring legacy at Microsoft.

Ernie Fernandez
Vice President for State and Local Government at Microsoft
Published Feb 15, 2023

This is the story of Josh Login and James Hesson, and the journey they shared which ultimately touched the lives of so many others. Josh, a business applications service specialist, and James, a director of sports for industry solutions, met six years ago while working on the Northeast sales team at Microsoft. However, it wasn’t until a customer visit to Miami that their friendship blossomed.

During their visit at the Miami Dolphins headquarters, the excitement surrounding the upcoming Dolphins Challenge Cancer (“DCC”) event was palpable. DCC is an endurance event organized by the Miami Dolphins NFL team to raise funds for cancer research and patient care programs. James and Josh both lost someone close to them to cancer and were immediately inspired by the DCC mission to unite the community in the fight against the disease.

They signed up for a 5K run on the spot and embarked on a shared adventure that would be life-changing in many ways. Despite their different upbringings and careers, they had found a common purpose. James now runs hundred-mile ultramarathons, and Josh isn’t too far behind his athletic friend. Every year, they raise the bar physically, charitably, and relationally. They created and manage an event chapter at Microsoft that has grown from two members to 14. Last year, they raised $36,000 and this year, they’re aiming to achieve their goal of $50,000. They also started a pre-event tradition of taking a 20-hour road trip from New Jersey to South Florida, with Josh as the planner, mapping out each stop in their itinerary.
