

I wish to have a barrel racing saddle

Haley, 12 & Maddy, 13
cystic fibrosis

Haley & Maddy are sweet young ladies who love horses, animals and is passionate about barrel racing. They both love to be outside, either riding horses or jumping on the trampoline. They both also live with cystic fibrosis but doesn't let their condition slow them down. They admire world-champion barrel rider Fallon Taylor and would like to be barrel races when they are older.

The girls wishes were granted on a clear day at the tail end of summer. The girls were surprised to arrive home to find their new saddles and tack sets waiting for them! "The girls are absolutely loving everything about this whole wish experience; it's everything and more than they ever expected!" says their mom.
